Area Building Halted in Strike By Ironworkers

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Virtual all construction in the Quad-City area was at a standstill today as ironworkers' Local 392 struck against the Southern Illinois Builders' Association.

Among projects halted are the new high school in Granite City, repair work at the Granite City High School auditorium, expansion of the Kroger Food Store and blast furnace repairs and improvements at Granite City Steel Co.

Ironworkers are asking a 50-cent-per-hour equivalent increase in wages and fringe benefits. The workers presently receive $9.10 per hour which includes $8.25 per hour in wages and the remainder in fringe benefits.

Negotiations became deadlocked earlier this week and pickets appeared at construction sites throughout Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties yesterday morning.

At the new high school project, between 80 and 100 craft workers are honoring the ironworkers picket lines. There are

A Granite City woman, 18, was found severely beaten and abandoned at the Mississippi River low water dam near the Chain of Rocks Bridge early Wednesday, and two men were arrested on charges of aggravated battery.

The victim is Connie Ross, of 3128 Bryan Ave., who was found by a Pinkerton guard for radio station KWIK located nearby. She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a concussion and other injuries and was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where she was reported to be in fair condition.

Madison County sheriff's deputies were called to the scene at 2:10 a.m., and at 3:30 a.m., Madison police arrested David L. Mathenia, 25, of 407 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Joseph K. Beavin, 36, of 203 E. 23rd St. A third man is being sought in connection with the case.

Mathenia and Beavin were charged by county authorities with aggravated battery. They were being held in the county jail today, pending court appearance and continuance of an investigation.

The two suspects were spotted riding a motorcycle by Madison police on Greenwood Street where Beavin's car was found earlier. They were stopped at 12th Street and Grand Avenue.

Madison police said they were alerted by the sheriff's department shortly after the incident was discovered and had staked out Beavin's car.

$1,000 Reward for Information on Dog Poisoning at Animal Hospital

A $1,000 reward is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for poisoning two English setters owned by Dr. Leland Holt, Granite City veterinarian, at the Bellemeor Animal Hospital.

The white and orange hunting dogs, a male and female, were fed arsenic-laced venison while in a pen at the rear of the animal hospital at 2117 Johnson Road.

Both animals were given an antidote and are recovering. Long term effects from ingesting the poisoned meat cannot yet be determined, Dr. Holt said.

A Granite City School District spokesman said today that very little spare time had been included in plans for the new school and that a prolonged strike could delay the scheduled September 1973 opening of the second high school here.

Viviano's Market Robbed by Gunman

An armed gunman robbed Viviano's Tom Boy Market, Gaslight Plaza, Pontoon Beach, of an undetermined amount of cash at 3:55 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Cathy Viviano, the wife of owner Joe Viviano, reported that she was working in the cashier's office when the man, described as about 40 years of age, dark complexioned and wearing sun glasses, approached.

He set a blue-silver revolver on the counter and said, "Give me the money out of that drawer," she related. She said she laid the money on the counter and the robber asked her if she had a bag. She replied that she did not and offered to walk to a check-out lane to get a bag.

He told her not to do that and picked up the money. He then left through the main door, she said. Witnesses outside said another man, about 38 years of age, joined the robber and they walked to a blue late-model four-door car in the parking lot, in which a driver was waiting. The three then drove from the parking lot and westbound on Pontoon Road, it was reported.

A search for the car was unsuccessful.

1.55-inch Rain Soaks Quad-Cities

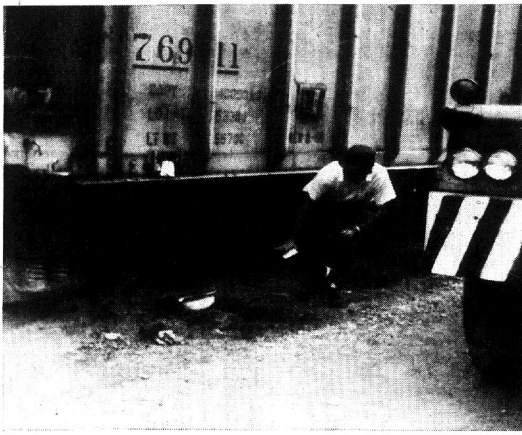

A total of 1.55 inches of rain soaked parched ground during last night's electrical storm in the Quad-Cities.

Little damage was reported. A basement caved in in a vacant house at 2141 Monroe St., damaging power and gas lines. Illinois Power Co. and the Granite City Fire Dept. were notified.

Trees were felled in streets at 2351 State St. and at 27th Street and Edison Avenue.

3 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Madison police said they were alerted by the sheriff's department shortly after the incident was discovered and had staked out Beavin's car.

A SAD TASK, Lester Oelze, a Terminal Railroad Association car foreman, examines the scene where Darcy G. Chaffin Sr. of St. Louis and Larry Puert of Venice were run over by a railroad freight car at 9:05 a.m. Tuesday. Mr. Chaffin was killed and Puert lost both legs. He is in poor condition. Mr. Chaffin's hard hat and shoe are shown near the railroad car's wheels.

Man Killed, One Hurt In Rail Yard Accident

A Terminal Railroad Association carman was killed and another injured seriously when a railroad freight car apparently was bumped by another car and rolled over both men on the Venice rail yards at 9:05 a.m. Tuesday.

Darcy G. Chaffin Sr., 54, of St. Louis, was killed and Larry Puert, 45, of 117 Hampden St., Venice, owner of Larry's Corner Tavern, 400 Broadway, Venice, lost both his legs in the accident.

Puert remained in poor condition in the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The accident occurred on Rip Track 44, a car repair track, about three-fourths of a mile south of the Broadway underpass. Witnesses said Mr. Chaffin and Puert were standing at the south end of a defective car, between the rails, inspecting it when a defective covered hopper car was rolled by a train from another track onto the rip track. The hopper car rolled into the car on which the two men were working, authorities said.

Saw Car Coming

Tom Bommarito, St. Louis, a utility clerk and truck driver for the railroad, said he saw the covered hopper car approaching the boxcar and sounded the horn of his truck and called to the men to move. Bommarito said he started to open the door of the truck but saw he was too late as the freight car was struck and rolled over both men on the Venice rail yards at 9:05 a.m. Tuesday.

The south wheels on the east side of the box car rolled onto Puert's hips and the north wheels rolled over Mr. Chaffin's body. The car had to be lifted with a crane to free Puert.

Workers in the yard reported that the rip track should have been isolated by the two men closing and locking the switch and placing a blue flag in the switch stand.

James P. Broadway of East St. Louis, yardmaster, told authorities that none of the three precautions had been taken.

Robert P. Mathewson of Blackhawk, Mo., a trainmaster, said he found the two men under the car and yelled at Puert that he would get help. He then went to see that an ambulance had been called.

The engineer of the train from which the hopper car was ejected, Ogilvie Eiderman of Northwoods, Mo., reported he was preparing the train and could not get air pressure through the brake lines, which indicated a defective car in the train.

He said when the car was identified as the hopper car, he received a head signal from the "head man of the train crew" to push the car back onto another track.

Eiderman said he pushed the car onto the left track, then connected the engine and cars to the rest of the train and left the yard. He said he did not know of the accident until 10 a.m.

George F. Nancey, 3128 Davis Ave., a switchman and foreman, said he found that the 10th car on the train was defective and lined it up to be pushed onto the rip track.

Nancey said he received orders from a yardmaster to push it onto track 44.

Ernest A. Carr, St. Ann, Mo., a switchman on the train, reported he also heard a yardmaster say over the loudspeaker, "The defective car is being pushed onto the rip track."

However, subsequent to the legislature's passage of the privilege tax, Atty. Gen. William G. Scott ruled such a tax was unconstitutional.

When the legislature passed the privilege tax it was felt that there would be no personal property taxes levied on individuals.

The mayor said he and Brandt "will get together to discuss the council procedure and then call a meeting of the local improvements board to consider our next steps."

Court Action Needed

Brandt has said that the mail project cannot proceed until a meeting of the improvements board is held to authorize a petition to the circuit court for approval of the project. A court ruling also must be sought on several objections to the assessment.

The city council must authorize the sale of special assessment bonds before the petition can be filed in circuit court, Brandt said.

The mail project has been in the planning stage for the past two years. Engineering work has been underway and it had been hoped work would get under way last spring to take advantage of the summer building season.

Cost of the mail project has been estimated at $250,000 and will be financed by special assessments against property within or adjoining the mail area.

City OK's Budget Of $3.9 Million; Veto Threatened

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A Granite City corporate budget of $3,980,771—the highest in the city's history—was approved by the city council Monday night after only a half-hour discussion, and only four hours before the statutory deadline for adoption of an appropriation bill.

But the unity which council members achieved in a short time to avoid widespread tax objections and an unprecedented financial dilemma apparently was to be short-lived.

Mayor Donald Partney, who is confined to his home recuperating from two months hospitalization and lung surgery, announced after the council session that he intends to veto some sections of the budget "because they are too high and the taxpayers can't take it any longer."

The mayor declines to disclose what parts of the appropriation measure he intends to veto, but said "it will be outlined in a message I will submit to the council in its next meeting." The council meets again next Monday night.

Budget is Higher

The budget adopted on Monday night in special meeting—called at the last minute because council members could not get the measure on final passage during the regular session—was $3,980,771, higher than the 1971-72 budget of $3,675,881 adopted a year ago, and $195,889 more than a budget of $3,785,092 proposed by Mayor Partney early this year.

The city council's Finance Committee originally drafted an appropriation totaling $4,069,486—a revision of the budget proposed by the mayor—but this figure met substantial opposition from some council members who said it contained items that could be eliminated and that the overall figure was too high because of the city's prospective financial problems.

The council trimmed a total of $88,224 from this figure Monday night on a motion by Alderman Roy Poulos. The cuts included $57,000 in the budget items for the fire department, $28,500 for the street department, $2,204 in the executive department and $700 in the appropriation for city hall operations.

Poulos' motion met only token resistance from Alderman Sam Whitmer, who opposed a cut in engineering fees, and Alderman Emerald Dawes who defended an appropriation to buy land for a new fire station. Poulos proposed the cuts as an amendment to a motion for final passage of the budget by Alderman Paul Schuchman.

On First Reading

The budget bill was placed on first reading in the July 24 council session after a move to place the bill in final passage at that time failed by one vote. As a result, passage of the bill Monday night required only eight favorable votes.

Madison Joins Protest Of County Tax Charge

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The city of Madison joined Tuesday night with other Quad-City area taxing bodies in protesting a "tax charge" levied by the county treasurer's office to finance the county's system of property assessment, tax extension and tax collection.

A charge of $7,912 has been made against the city of Madison as its share of the tax system cost by the county. Notice of the charge was given to the city council in regular meeting Tuesday night.

Alderman Don Broyles commented that Venice township has its own collector and assessor and the county charge for the same service is "double taxation without representation. Let's have a tea party."

The city's corporation counsel, George Filcoff Jr., told the council he will investigate the possibility of legal proceedings against the county, possibly jointly with Granite City and other taxing bodies.

"They are just going ahead with what they had, even though it is unconstitutional," Filcoff stated.

The office of George Musso, county treasurer, is withholding tax funds from each taxing body to pay a county-wide charge of $140,106 Musso claims it costs each year for assessment, extension and collection of taxes.

In the past, costs of the tax system were paid out of fees charged for the work. The use of fees was abolished by the 1970 Illinois constitution.

In other business, the city council approved a request by the city department to advertise for bids on a used crawler type high lift to tear down old buildings and sheds in the city.

The aldermen voted to install alley lights between the 800 blocks of Lee and Washington avenues and in the alley to the south of the 1500 block of Sixth Street.

Ogilvie Signs Bill to Repeal Mobile Home Tax

By RAY SERATI

Springfield—As of right now there are no laws in Illinois which provides for the taxing of mobile home owners by counties.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has signed into law a bill which repeals the so-called privilege tax on the mobile home owners. The bill first was passed into law by the General Assembly in 1971.

GC Mail Meeting Soon

A meeting of the Granite City Board of Local Improvements will be arranged "within a matter of days," possibly early next week, to expedite development of the downtown Granite City Mail, Mayor Donald Partney told the Press-Record today.

Mayor Partney, now recuperating at his home after lung surgery and two months hospitalization, said he realized the mail project had been stalled during his absence from the city hall, but that steps will be taken to move the project along "as rapidly as possible."

He said he expects to confer immediately with William G. Brandt, special attorney for the mail development, to determine the procedure that must be taken by the city council in approval of ordinances and other legal steps.

He said he had been informed by Brandt that ordinances and other documents, including a bill authorizing issuance of special assessment bonds to finance the project, have been completed for the city by the firm of Charles and Trauernecht, St. Louis bonding authorities.

The mayor said he and Brandt "will get together to discuss the council procedure and then call a meeting of the local improvements board to consider our next steps."

Broyles as to who was responsible for the upkeep of alleys in the city. Filcoff replied that the responsibility was shared jointly by the city and the property owners whose lands adjoin the alleys.

Mayor Mike Sasyk said he felt that since the city owns and cleans the alleys annually, the property owners should at least mow the weeds and keep trash out of the alleys. He urged all property owners to cooperate in the effort to keep the alleys neat.

Oppose Rate Increase
The council went on record as opposing a proposed general rate increase for Illinois Power Co. and the legal department was requested to inform the Interstate Commerce Commission of the opposition. Public hearings on the increase will begin Wednesday in Springfield.

Alderman John Haynes asked that the council investigate the hiring practices of the new West Madison Child Care Center which is being held in the West Madison Recreation Center.

Haynes said he felt a higher percentage of the employees should be from the area surrounding the center and he charged that several local residents had been fired, decreasing the percentage of employees from the area even more.

Sasyk said he would investigate the hiring and firing practices at the center and, if necessary, would make recommendations to its directors.

The council was informed that its letter to Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie is being considered. The letter asks for his veto of House Bills 4176 and 4179, which provide for higher weight limits per axle on vehicles. Engineers have said that the city's streets and bridges were not designed for the heavier loads and the annual maintenance costs of the roads would be increased if the bills become law.

A letter from the Department of Transportation informed the aldermen that the city's request for $1,000 from motor fuel tax funds for engineering services on a highway transportation plan has been approved.

The mayor reappointed all aldermanic committees for the year and appointed 16 residents as auxiliary policemen. Auxiliary policemen appointed were: Gene Robertson, captain; James Childers, lieutenant; and George Wallace, sergeant.

Others are Tommy Jackson, Guy Burns, John Pittman, Fred Trebing, John Stankel, Joe Scrum, Laune Byrd, Earl Mosley, Vern McIntire, George

Earl Warnhoff, chairman of the 25th observance committee, met Tuesday evening at the Jaycee Clubhouse with Gerald Gann, Owen Ross, Guy Cooper, Darrell Weible, Al Delay and Jim Thrane.

The group selected the Croation Hall in Madison as the site for the anniversary dinner-dance. Also prepared were plans for program books, music, catering service and special activities.

History of A&P Stores Told to GC Rotarians

Two 20-year-old bearded youths, George H. Hartford and George Gilman, were the founders of The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., more commonly known simply as A&P, beginning in 1859, Edward L. Stone, local store manager, told the Granite City Rotary Club at its Tuesday noon meeting in the YMCA.

There was a big market for tea at a reasonable price in the 1800's and the two men made arrangements to bring tea to this country from China on the "Flying Cloud" one of the fast ships of the day, Stone related.

Originally selling tea from the docks and through mail orders, the company expanded to 5,000 covered wagon routes; then to 11 a.m. Wednesday at St. Joseph's Hospital in Alton. He was a member of St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic Church in Glen Carbon and the Moose Lodge, Edwardsville.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Irene Perry; a son, John Perry of Glen Carbon; three sisters, Mrs. Millie Varone of Glen Carbon, Mrs. Marie Korvot of Collinsville and Mrs. Margaret Hickenbach of Alton. Three brothers, Henry, Pete and Albert Perry all of Glen Carbon; two nieces who live in Granite City.

His remains will be taken from an Edwardsville funeral home to St. Cecilia's Catholic Church for services at 9 a.m. Saturday. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Chamber Officers Address Madison Rotary Club

Dr. Albert W. Trifani, president of the Tri-City Chamber of Commerce, and Ed Kellogg, executive secretary of the local Chamber, were guest speakers at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Madison Rotary Club in the Madison Recreation Center.

"I really feel at home here, not as a guest," Dr. Trifani remarked, noting the fact that he grew up in Madison, attending both the old Harris High School and Madison High School.

Dr. Trifani explained the various local functions of the chamber referring to its as "prime non-government agency concerned with civic progress."

He further referred to the membership of the Chamber as the "top talent" in the area and gave examples of how the chamber works together on mutual problems. Kellogg said the job of the local Chamber covers three basic areas: problem prevention, problem solving, and the promotion and development of the community.

Kucharski, Pucinski Share Same Political Problems

By KEN WATSON

Copley News Service
Springfield — Republican Edmund J. Kucharski and Democrat Roman C. Pucinski have more in common than a Polish heritage.

Both share a political problem of achieving public recognition in campaigns against opponents whose names have long been well-known in Illinois. Both are Chicagoans, themselves well-known in the metropolitan area, but are faced with a challenging job of selling themselves Downstate.

The current consensus beneath the Statehouse Dome is that Pucinski is one of the longest of long shots to take the U. S. Senate seat from Republican Charles H. Percy, and that prospects are little better that Kucharski will beat Democrat Michael J. Howlett for secretary of state.

This admittedly is a Downstate view and influenced strongly by the fact that Percy and Howlett are credited with large followings in that area, cutting across party lines.

Shots, Boosters Needed As School Term Nears

By JOAN MURARO

Copley News Service
Springfield — If schoolbooks and blackboards are just around the corner, can shots and boosters be far behind?

Nope, says the Illinois Department of Public Health, which requires certain inoculations for all youngsters entering state schools for the first time.

Dr. Byron John Francis, state epidemiologist, stressed the importance of the inoculations for school children, since it is in the classroom that most children are exposed to a variety of communicable diseases.

Before entering school for the first time, Dr. Francis said, state law requires immunization against diphtheria, polio,

But this has already been tagged as one of the most unpopular of children in American history and those who know Kucharski and Pucinski have been ruled out of the winner's circle at this early stage of the race.

Both can be expected to run well in Chicago. Each has an outstanding track record in that area, Kucharski having carried Cook county three times in races for Superior Court Clerk and Pucinski having been elected to Congress six consecutive times from Chicago's 11th District.

Both are indefatigable campaigners, are impressive in appearance, speak and mix well, have excellent minds and are knowledgeable in the issues relevant to their particular campaigns.

Both May Benefit
Each may also benefit from the fact that he is running against a familiar office-holder in a year when voters so far have shown a strong tendency to favor new faces.

tetanus and measles. In addition, youngsters through the third grade must receive rubella inoculations, and those under 6 years of age must have an inoculation for pertussis, more commonly known as whooping cough.

Dr. Francis said that youngsters who received the usual "baby shots" in infancy, but have not had boosters since they were three years old, should have boosters for diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus.

Schedule by Age

Youngsters who have never had any shots should receive these "baby" shots before entering school, or at least get started on them, he said. Children under 6 who have never received these inoculations should receive three doses of 6-p-1 at four week intervals. Those over 6 who have never been inoculated for these diseases should receive two doses of the diphtheria and tetanus vaccines, but need not receive the pertussis inoculations. These doses are given the older children at four to six week intervals.

Though the state does not require it, Dr. Francis said the department does recommend that children, who received measles inoculations before they were 1-year-old, should have a booster.

Children who have never received oral polio immunization should receive two doses of the oral doses of vaccine in infancy, they should still have a booster, he said.

District GOP Chairmen Meet in Alton Tonight

Chairmen of the ten Republican districts in Madison County are to meet tonight with Clyde Belcher of Alton, chairman of the Madison County Republican Central Committee, to discuss campaign activities for the Nov. 7 election. The meeting will be held in the GOP campaign headquarters in Alton.

Plans for tonight's meeting were announced Monday night at a meeting of the Republican Committee's executive board in the Lewis & Clark Restaurant, East Alton, where campaign procedure also was discussed. Approximately 30 persons, including Robert Thomas, GOP candidate for county coronator, and Robert Astorian, candidate for recorder of deeds, attended the Monday night affair. The group discussed Governor's Day at the Illinois State Fair on Aug. 17, a program for voter registration an heard plans for a dinner that will be given Sept. 17 in Alton by Alton Republican women.

Attorney General William J. Scott, a candidate for re-election on the state ticket, will be the speaker at the dinner which will be held in the Stratford Hotel. The dinner will be open to the public.

HOUSE VANDALIZED
Art Chastain of Waterloo reported at 4:15 p.m. Monday that vandals damaged a vacant house at 2475 Center St. A large hole was knocked in a living room wall, two holes were in a bedroom wall and paint was scattered about the house.

But for Pucinski and Kucharski the big thing right now is becoming better known Downstate.

It should be noted that whatever the current outlook neither of their opponents are taking it easy. Howlett is campaigning like it is the week before election and Percy has been as busy in Illinois as the Congressional session will permit.

There are some at the Capitol who predict that Illinois will see several big surprises on election night and that Pucinski or Kucharski may provide one of them.

CUES FOR BARBECUES

Take a look at your barbecue equipment before you begin tossing in the briquets. Some grills have draft openings or perforations to permit the fire to "breathe." If your grill lacks such vents, a layer of gravel or vermiculite in the fire bowl will serve the purpose of air openings. The gravel or vermiculite also prevents the fire from burning too hot and allows the coals to give off more heat.

To simplify emptying and cleaning grills equipped with air vents, you might want to line the bottom of the fire bowl with heavy-duty aluminum foil. The foil will also provide additional fuel economy by reflecting the heat. But take care not to block off the draft openings or perforations.

Be sure to use good quality briquets to produce a good fire. That's what you need for thorough, even cooking. Hardwood charcoal briquets give long, steady heat. On the other hand, poor fuel may sputter and smoke, robbing the food of the true charcoal flavor.

Stack the briquets in a pyramid and squirt lightly with a lighting fluid recommended for charcoal. Let the briquets stand about one minute and then light them.

When the surface of the briquets is covered with a gray ash—usually 30 to 45 minutes after ignition—the coals are ready. For roisseries barbecuing, arrange the coals at the rear of the fire bowl. For open grilling, spread the coals evenly over an area slightly wider than that required by the food to be cooked. To help reduce fat flare-up, arrange the hot briquets about one-half to one inch apart.

To lend an additional smoke flavor to the food, try wood chips from apple, oak, hickory or cherry. Soak the chips in water at least an hour before using—unless the manufacturer specifies otherwise. While the food is cooking, add only a few chips at a time to the hot coals.

TRY PORK FOR NEXT COOKOUT

Try grilling or roasting pork for your next backyard cookout. Because pork is basically a tender meat and responds well to dry heat cooking, it's an ideal meat for barbecuing over charcoal.

You need not be concerned that pork won't get thoroughly cooked outdoors. Heat from the outdoor grill can be just as hot as that from a kitchen range.

Allow plenty of cooking time. Long, slow cooking will result in a tender juicy product. You can be certain that pork chops or pork steaks are well done when there's no hint of pink in the center. For roasts, use a meat thermometer to indicate doneness.

Place the roast on a rotisserie rod and insert the thermometer so that it can rotate with the meat and still clear the hot coals at the bottom of the turn. Position the thermometer with the tip resting in the center of the thickest part of the roast. But make sure that the tip doesn't rest on the rotisserie rod, in a fat seam or on a bone. Such locations will give a false reading.

You should roast fresh pork to a final internal temperature of 170 degrees Fahrenheit to get the juiciest, tastiest results.

Books, Records Sought for Fair

Area residents are being asked to donate books and records to the annual "Book Sale," a project of the Children's Hematology Research Association (CHRA) at St. Louis Children's Hospital.

The benefit event will take place Sept. 11-16 at Northlands Shopping Center in St. Louis County, according to Harlan Keel of Granite City, an association member.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for research in leukemia and related blood disorders at Children's Hospital. The research helps children currently being treated at the medical facility. It was explained.

New laboratory equipment and research personnel have been provided by the CHRA this year. Some funds also are being used to furnish life-giving drugs to children of families that would otherwise go unaided, a spokesman for the hospital said.

Thousands of books and records of all kinds are needed to fill the giant Ralston Purina tent which will be the focal point of the book fair in September, Keel said.

Persons wishing to donate books and records are invited to call 931-2531 for pick-up service.

Time also is a factor in repairs to the Granite City High School auditorium where plans were to complete all heavy demolition and repair work before school opens in September. S. M. Repair work and the installation of air pollution control equipment at the Granite City Steel Co. blast furnace division also was halted and pickets were placed at the blast furnace construction gate.

Locks Project Down
Also halted were the $6,000,000 improvement project at the Chain of Rocks Locks and all construction at the Venice power plant of Union Electric Co.

Pickets at the locks are halting construction by the U. S. Corps of Engineers of a concrete guideway to assist vessels entering the locks.

A contract with the Carpenters' District Council of Madison County and vicinity was to have expired Monday, but the union granted a 15-day extension to the old contract. The carpenters are asking for 40 cents-per-hour equivalent raises in wages and fringe benefits. The council reportedly has offered 20 cents.

some $20 million to the coffers of local governments.

However, this brief respite may be short-lived. It is expected that new legislation will be sought when the General Assembly returns to work in November. If the General Assembly stays in session long enough, the legislation could clear then, if not it will be handled next year.

State officials also are looking into the situation to see just what can and cannot be done under the present constitutional limitations.

If the legislature does not act until next year it will have to do so fast. Because on June 1 as a rule tax matters are all finalized in the county offices. It must also be remembered that taxes being paid now are for 1971, so the respite may turn out to be very brief.

Close to 40 young people will appear in the cast, including 10 performers from the Margate Salem School of Dance, Stanley Coleman, Players president, said today.

The youthful dancers, ranging in age from 7 to 14 years, will present a special dance number as the "Munchkins" in the "Ding Dong the Witch is Dead" segment.

A favorite movie of young and old over the years, "Wizard of Oz" tells the story of Dorothy (Donna Vail), who with her small dog, Toto (Eric Scott) and a desolate farm in Kansas to the make-believe land of Oz.

There, they travel the yellow brick road, meeting enroute the Scarecrow (Kevin Baugh), the Tin Man (Larry Libby) and the Cowardly Lion (Dan Bugg), among others, to find the Wizard of Oz (Glenn Half-acre).

city's employment of an engineer for checking a sewer, drainage and building problems.

When it appeared that the discussion on cuts proposed by Poulos might develop into a lengthy discussion, Whitmer asked City Attorney Leon Scroggins if the "old budget from last year would prevail in the event the council failed to approve a new budget during the meeting.

"I've heard some people talk about such a thing, but I can not find any statutory provision under which the old budget would carry over," Scroggins replied.

Alderman Everett Morlein remarked that "if you don't pass this budget tonight, you don't have anything."

Whitmer urged the council to "pass up the budget as we have it here tonight, and then let the mayor operate on it. He has the final say as to what we do here tonight... the important thing now is to get this budget on passage or we're in trouble."

On a roll call vote on Poulos' amendment for the $38,224 in budget cuts, the only alderman voting against it was Thomas Boker.

On a subsequent roll call vote on Schuler's motion to approve the budget, as amended, eight aldermen voted in favor—the minimum required—and three voted against.

Voting against the budget were Aldermen Walter Nonn, Robertson and Boker. Those voting "yes" were Basarich, Poulos, Claude Green, Morlein, Whitmer, Schuler, Frank Greenwald and Daves.

Absent were Aldermen Gerald Parmley, William Dallas and Clyde Boyd.

The new budget includes salary increases approximating 4% for all city employees, with some variations in across-the-board wages in an effort to equalize salary schedules, according to Boker who handled negotiations for new city employee contracts this year.

Among budget items adopted Monday night are:

A total of $567,542 for the fire department, compared to $624,542 originally set up in the appropriation; $366,523 for the street department, compared to an original figure of $385,023; $26,449 for the executive department, (mayor's office), compared to the original figure of $28,473.

Police department, $502,826,

Sammy Mendoza (a Munchkin), is in the foreground. Tickets, costing $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, may be obtained at Wilson Park rink immediately before Friday and Saturday shows at 8:15 p.m.

Lee Wins 3rd Straight Motorcycle Feature

Robert E. Lee of Fort Worth, Tex., won his third consecutive feature race during the weekly motorcycle racing program Tuesday night at the Tri-City Speedway.

Lee downed a formidable lineup of 30 other racers for the victory, including Gene Romero of Los Angeles, Calif., the 1970 grand national champion. The Fort Worth cyclist also had the fastest time-trial lap of the night with a quarter-mile in 15.38 seconds. He won his heat, the trophy dash and his semi-feature event.

Keen Second
In the trophy dash, Lee was trailed by Neil Keen of St. Louis, the 1971 track champion, and Berry Gerald.

Fred Smith was second to Lee in the first heat with Charles Seale of Lantana, Fla., third. Gerald won the second heat with Robert Deiss Jr. of Pekin and Steve Hannegan of Champaign trailing.

Charles Chapple of Flint, Mich., a former feature winner, won the third heat with Neil Keen of St. Louis, last year's track champion, second and Paul Pressgrove of Topeka, Kan., third.

The elimination heat was won by Ron Sisson of St. Louis with Ron Widman of St. Louis second.

Wins Semi-Feature

Lee's victory in the first semi-feature race was over

Keen and Gerald, Chapple won the second semi-feature with Fred Smith and Deiss trailing.

Rookie Al Steele of Alton, who was expected to be a top contender due to his past performance here, was the victim of problems in his motorcycle's engine and he was forced to watch the race from the sidelines.

The feature pitted Lee against Keen, Gerald and Chapple with Lee breaking free from the pack for the victory. Gerald was second, followed by Chapple and Keen in third and fourth.

Racing will continue Tuesday night with Lee accepting a challenge from Roy Higgins to race while sitting backwards on their motorcycles. Higgins is an expert at backwards riding but Lee said he felt he could win the race.

Time-trials will begin at 7 p.m. with racing at 8 p.m.

Two GC Teachers To Take Part in Science Course

Two Granite City science teachers will attend a leadership training course in "Time, Space and Matter" in August at the University of Wisconsin-Superior.

Patricia Mueller, 1527 Lindell Blvd., and David McClain, 28 William John Court, will then team teach a ten-week TSM Workshop this fall. The program is sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Time Space and Matter is an innovative junior high school physical science course developed by scientists and educators at Princeton University. Astronomy and physics are interwoven in the study of the spatial relationships and motions of celestial bodies.

Investigation of the materials of which the earth is composed involves both geology and chemistry. Through the TSM course, the student encounters and uses many concepts from all of the physical sciences.

Any teacher of physical science interested in attending the Granite City Workshop in the fall should write to the TSM Director, Dr. Gordon O. C. Besch, University of Wisconsin, Superior, Wis. 54880, or contact one of the Granite City consultants.

Those who successfully complete the local workshop will receive two graduate credits from UW-Superior. There is no tuition fee for participants. The place, date and time of the first workshop session will be sent with the National Science Foundation application form. Since the number of participants will be limited, early applications have been urged.

Bill for Midwest Nuclear Compact Filed by Price

Representative Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) has introduced legislation granting congressional consent to the "Midwest Nuclear Compact," an agreement designed to facilitate cooperation among midwestern states in the peaceful application of atomic energy to state and local needs.

"This compact," Price said, "will provide our midwestern states with a means of taking full advantage of the rapidly developing peaceful application of nuclear technology to such fields as energy, natural resources, commerce, agriculture, industry and medicine.

The compact will make possible cooperation in the advancement of programs, projects and activities which individual state programs could not expect to produce, thus advancing the economies of individual states and the region as a whole with minimum environmental impact.

Specifically, the Compact establishes a "Midwest Nuclear Board" composed of one member from each state. The primary function of the board will be to encourage cooperation in nuclear matters among the member states.

In addition, it will perform numerous other functions in the nuclear field including training, information dissemination, conducting relations with the Federal Government, operation of research facilities and preparation of contingency plans for nuclear incidents.

At present, six midwestern states have enacted the required enabling legislation: Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. It is anticipated that the Compact eventually will include all 13 states in the Midwest Governors' Conference.

Cong. Price, who is vice-chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy of the Congress, was joined in sponsoring this legislation by a bipartisan group of 23 midwestern Congressmen.

Scott Endorsed By Independent Illinois Voters

Michael L. Shalkman, chairman of the Independent Voters of Illinois, has announced the IVI endorsement of Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott for re-election.

"The IVI feels that Scott has established a strong and impressive record of accomplishment in the three years that he has been Illinois' Attorney General," Shalkman said.

"Scott has been a leader in the battle to save our environment and has worked hard in the areas of consumer protection, voting rights and civil rights."

The IVI leader said the group's endorsement of Scott will mean that IVI volunteers will work in the precincts for his re-election in November.

From 1962-66, Scott served as Illinois state treasurer. Prior to his election as treasurer, he served as special assistant United States attorney for the Northern District of Illinois. Scott was elected to his present office of Attorney General of Illinois in 1968.

The IVI is an independent citizens organization which supports qualified candidates for public office. The IVI makes endorsements based on each candidate's voting record, a personal interview and a written questionnaire.

IVI has already announced its support of Charles H. Percy for U. S. senator, Daniel Walker for governor, Edmund J. Kucharski for secretary of state, Dean Barringer for state comptroller, Bernard Carey for state attorney and Robert L. Sklodowski for clerk of the circuit court.

1st GC National Buys Glen Carbon Bonds

First Granite City National Bank Tuesday evening submitted the low bid on $20,000 Village of Glen Carbon general obligation bonds. Proceeds of the issue are to be used for street improvements.

The local bank's bid of 5 3/4% was the lowest received from four bidders. Paul Lichtenberger, bank chairman, in making the announcement, said that the submission of the bid was in line with the bank's policy of cooperating with local areas in financing improvements.

The interest cost differential between the lowest and highest bids amounted to $4,551.87, representing a substantial savings to the Glen Carbon taxpayers.

"The officials of Glen Carbon are certainly to be congratulated in their direction and control of the growth of the village," Lichtenberger said. "Both population and area have expanded rapidly in the past few years with some excellent new subdivisions added to the village."

Regional Development Includes Alton Hospital Wing

Plans for a new $3.5 million wing at St. Anthony's Hospital in Alton have been announced. The new four-story wing will provide space for 51 beds for long-term care as well as an expanded employee cafeteria and lounge areas.

The structure will replace the present south wing constructed in 1908. Expansion plans have been approved by the St. Louis Area Regional Council on Health, and construction is proposed to begin in early 1973. Financing is expected to be accomplished through non-government channels.

St. Clair County was the State's number two coal producer during the month of June according to a report of the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals. Nearly 700,000 tons of coal were produced in the county out of a total state production of about 5.5 million tons.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

The establishment of a single "county-city" police force has been recommended to Monroe County officials by a management consulting firm. The proposed force, to be governed by a three member board, will enable the county and municipalities to meet the needs of an expected population of 41,000 in ten years.

Growth of the area is projected regardless of whether the new airport is built there. According to the consultants, the development of new highways as well as the area's proximity to St. Louis is expected to have a greater influence on growth patterns than the airport itself.

Governor Ogilvie has reappointed Henry Karandjeff and Homer Huber to three year terms on the board of the Tri-City Regional Port District. The seven member board recently held its annual organization meeting in Granite City.

The St. Clair County Board of Zoning Appeals has recommended the approval of a zoning variance which would allow the construction of a Ramada Inn motel near Fairview Heights. The variance was requested in order to permit construction of a 78 foot high structure near the intersection of Interstate 64 and Illinois Highway 159. Existing ordinances limit building height to 35 feet at this location.

The proposed new Alton Lock and Dam could become a focal point for playground and recreational activities according to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Development of both Ellis and Maple Islands and the nearby Illinois and Missouri River banks was recommended in a plan which includes beaches, a marine, other boat launching facilities, and parking structures. The recommendations were presented to the engineering firm responsible for preparing an environmental plan for the $240 million project.

Plans to build a K-Mart store in Granite City were revealed to the city council this week. Developers of the project have petitioned for rezoning of a 6.5 acre tract, a part of the total area required for the new building and related facilities. The new store is proposed to be located near the Nameoki Shopping Center.

MRS. DEREK REA, the former Miss Rose Marie Jaime, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Jaime, 1643 Spruce St. She was married at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Miss Rose Marie Jaime Becomes Mrs. Derek Rea

The wedding of Miss Rose Marie Jaime and Derek Curtis Rea was solemnized July 29 at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church.

Altar bouquets of white summer flowers and red roses provided the setting for the double ring ceremony, performed at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Henry Mack.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Jaime, 1643 Spruce St., and Mr. and Mrs. Dale C. Rea, 3286 Kilarney Drive.

The former Miss Jaime chose a white organza gown designed in Victorian style and complemented with a long bouffant veil of bridal illusion fastened to a headpiece of delicate lace hearts applied on a single band.

Long tapered sleeves were set in the Empire bodice, featuring a round neckline etched with fragile lace and pearls. Three organza ruffles at the mid-back secured a detachable chapel length train, edged with Venice lace, and the hem of the long skirt was bordered with matching lace.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white carnations and greenery. Miss Mary Louise Jaime, the bride's sister and her only attendant, selected a frock in lime green.

The high neckline and cuffs of the long sleeves were trimmed in white lace and lacework encircled the high rise waist. Her flowers were white carnations tinted pink.

Michael Scott attended the groom as best man. Dale Ferguson and John Early, ushers, seated the guests.

After the ceremony, the newly married couple greeted guests at a reception given in the Red Room of the Travelodge.

Children Stage Carnival for John Young

Small-sized booths made attractive to young patrons, plus games, prizes and refreshments, were in abundance during the weekend when five youngsters decided to stage a backyard carnival to benefit the John Allen Young Fund.

"None of the children knew John Allen," a neighbor told the Press-Record. "But they read about him and saw his picture in the paper and wanted to do something to help."

The carnival was sponsored by Larry Heagy, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heagy, 2801 Grand Ave. His co-workers were three friends, Becky Sage, Paul Sheridan and Ronnie Moore, all 11 years old, and Larry's sister, Lorelei, 10.

Between 60 and 65 children attended the event which took place at the Heagy home. A total of $40.15 was raised for the fund.

John Allen, 9-year-old son of Granite City Patrolman and Mrs. Albert Young, is the victim of retinitis pigmentosa, an hereditary eye disease for which no cure is known and always results in total blindness.

Several benefit events have been held or are being planned to raise money to assist the Youngs take their son to see as many places as possible before the ailment progresses further.

SHAPING-UP FINE FOR FALL. Granite City High School varsity football cheerleaders, Carol Roberts (top) and Becca Ashcraft, show their style at the National Cheerleaders Clinic on the campus of Illinois State University at Normal. The vivacious twosome, representing the Warrior cheerleaders at the 19th annual summer school program, achieved two outstanding, three excellent and one superior rating in competition. About 900 girls took part in the instruction series.

COLLINSVILLE COUPLE NAMES DAUGHTER PAULA

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reynolds of Collinsville became the parents of their first daughter July 28 at Belleville Memorial Hospital. The mother will be remembered as the former Miss Judith Kovalik of Granite City.

The infant weighed seven pounds, and has been named Paula Ann. The Reynolds have two sons, Rick, 9 years and Tim, 6.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kovalik, 47 Villa Drive, and L. M. Reynolds of Edwardsville.

GC Cheerleaders Rate High at ISU Clinic

The shouts, yells and cheers echoing across the grassy area at Illinois State University seemed more appropriate to the crisp weather of autumn than a hot sunny day in mid-summer.

A quick look confirmed the opinion for the field was crisscrossed with hundreds of football cheerleaders practicing their skills at the National Cheerleaders Clinic.

Among the 894 girls were Carol Roberts and Becca Ashcraft, representing the varsity cheerleaders at Granite City High School, who earned several distinctions during the five-day clinic on the ISU campus at Normal, Ill.

The pair accumulated two outstanding and three excellent ratings, plus one superior rating, in competition at the 19th annual summer school.

Win 'spirit stick'
On the third day of their stay, the local girls received the "spirit stick," a red, white and blue baton-like object which signified "displaying the keenest and most lively performance" in the day's activities.

Directing the 1972 clinic was Gene Casson of Dallas, Tex., a member of the National Cheerleaders Association staff. He was assisted by instructors from the national organization and several college-level personnel.

Participating students lived at a university residence hall under the supervision of counselors and members of the university's staff.

Special entertainment, including a talent night, swimming, golf, tennis and other recreational sports, was provided for the girls who attended daily workshop and practice sessions, staged outdoors and in the ISU facilities.

Miss Ashcraft, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ashcraft, 2306 Bern Ave., is a member of the Red Peppers, high school chorus, National Honor Society and the Student Council.

Miss Roberts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roberts, 3145 Davis Ave. She is a member of the National Honor Society and active in the Red Peppers.

1972 Cheerleaders

Other girls selected from the Red Peppers organization to lead the Warriors cheering section this fall at Granite City High School, are:

Pat Beljanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Beljanski Sr., 2000 Manley Ave., a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council, At-vanced Mixed Chorus and Girls' Glee Club.

Diane Gonwa, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gonwa, reside at 18 Miami Court. She is Granite City High School representative on the Six-Buer-Fuller Fashion Board and a member of the Student Council, Spanish Club and GAA and served as sophomore class treasurer.

500 View GC Park District 'Round-Up'

Honor awards for displaying good sportsmanship, qualities of leadership and citizenship and excellence at games, together with a fast moving watermelon eating contest and a program of musical numbers were part of the 1972 "Round-Up Night" program viewed by 500 spectators at Wilson Park rink pavilion.

The festive affair customary and the youth recreation program conducted each summer by the Granite City Park District at various school playground centers.

An interesting Indian display, arranged by Susan Deacy, crafts supervisor, attracted many viewers. Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, recreational supervisor, reported. The exhibit contained handwork created by children at the 10 district playground centers.

Watermelon Contest
Among the highlights of the evening was the traditional watermelon eating contest when youthful participants, each with his hands tied securely, attempt to consume a quarter section of a large melon in record time.

This year's champion was Fred Schuler of Parkview Center, who received a large watermelon as the first place award.

Runners-up were Paul Conrad of Wilson Center and David Lopez of Community Center (tied).

Others entered in the contest representing their playground were Tom Speece, Logan; Dennis Lloyd, Washington; Jeff Hamilton, Nameoki; Bill Foucher, Webster; David Grimm, McKinley; Robby Vaughn, Marshall; and Mike Forshee, Niedringhaus.

Honor Winners

Honor award winners, cited by leaders at the various playgrounds for their all-around attitude and achievements during the seven weeks of the program, were presented the coveted "Purple Rosettes."

Those selected for the honor awards were: Donnie Jones and De De Browning, Logan; Terri Deterding and Tim Dix, Niedringhaus; Dona Evans and D. Mark Trtan, Wilson; Tina Sedabres and Robby Vaughn, Marshall; Cathy Schuler and Shawn Rose, Parkview; Jeff Hamilton and Anita Milton, Nameoki; Lenora Vaughn and Dennis Lloyd, Washington; Charles Hozian and Linda Knobloch, Webster; John Six and Camille Signale, McKinley; and Gary Tadlock and Tina Thompson, Community Center.

Charles E. Hileman Jr., of the local chapter, state master counselor, will preside at the conclave until his successor is installed at the grand breakfast on Sunday morning.

He expects a registration of more than 400 for a full program from business sessions to sports, dancing, entertainers and food. Late registrations may be made by contacting Charles Meyer, chapter advisor.

A report was made by Jerry Todd on the state softball tournament at Jacksonville where the local team won the championship last Sunday. The first-place trophy will be presented at the conclave's grand breakfast.

Car washes will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday at Sparky's Conoco Service Station, 18th Street and Niedmehaus Avenue, and Saturday at the D & J Mobil Service Station, 20th Street and Madison. Reports were made on two previous car washes. Tickets will be honored at the weekend work events. Proceeds will be used for conclave expenses.

Steelworkers to Get Pay Raises During Month

Officials of Granite City Steel Co. disclosed this week that pay raises for steelworkers and other hourly-paid employees at the plant due Aug. 1 will be paid even though the raises have not been approved by the Federal wage-price board.

Raises were granted to 3,700 hourly workers at the plant, including about 2,500 steelworkers, Paul M. Walter, vice-president of industrial relations for the company, said this week.

Walter said the workers also will receive, in addition to the minimum 12.5 cent-per-hour wage increase, a cost of living increase sufficient to guarantee a minimum of 12.5 cents per hour.

In addition, the workers will receive an extra paid holiday, an improved pension plan and other benefits, he said.

The increases for steelworkers was due as the first year of a three-year contract ended Aug. 1. The contract provided for annual increases. The company

Librarian From Holland Addresses Kiwanis Club

Fred Berschuy, a librarian at the Royal Library at The Hague in Holland, described the responsibilities of his position at a meeting Monday evening of the Granite City Kiwanis Club. Eighteen members attended the dinner session at Charlie's Restaurant.

The guest speaker was introduced by his brother, Wilhelm Berschuy of Granite City, president-elect of the men's service club. The latter is an engineer with R. Dron Electrical Co.

Berschuy, his wife and children are guests of his brother in Granite City. The visitor commented on the friendliness of the American people and expressed a desire to remain here and seek employment at a U.S. library.

Darrell Weible, Kiwanis president, conducted a brief business session. He announced that Kiwanis International has scheduled its annual "Kids Day" for Sept. 22.

In connection with the youth day, members of the Granite City club made preparations to sell peanuts during September. Proceeds from the project are used to further youth programs sponsored by the Kiwanis organization.

Lawn & Garden

By WAYNE D. SIEBERT
Area Extension Adviser,
Ornamental Horticulture,
St. Clair and Madison Counties

WATERING YOUR GARDEN
An unexpected drought is causing serious damage to flowers, shrubs and gardeners by stunting established plants and killing recent transplants.

Withering and stunted growth are typical signs of severe drought. Large cracks and hardened soil are added signs of a crisis in your yard.

Deep watering each week during this crisis will maintain steady growth and maximum performance. A p.p.l. enough water to wet the soil to a depth of 5 or 6 inches deep. Place a juice can or cup among the plants and keep watering until one inch of water collects in the dish.

Watering doesn't require a timeclock for best results as long as the foliage dries before dark. Morning or afternoon watering is equally effective as long as you supply enough water.

BAGWORMS ARE HATCHING
Bagworm eggs are hatching but the young larvae are too small to cause much damage or be easily seen.

One application of carbaryl malathion or diazinon will completely control hatching bagworms. If cool weather delays the hatch you may want to make another application in 2 weeks.

When aphids and canker worms (small chewing caterpillars) are a nuisance on shrubs and flowers malathion or carbaryl will be more effective than diazinon. It is not necessary to add soap or a commercial spreader-sticker. Concentrate on thoroughly wetting your shrubs and evergreens.

INVADING INSECTS
A variety of insects including ants, roaches (waterbugs) spiders and crickets often move into homes during the summer.

Broods of developing insects are always exploring for new homes and can easily use minute cracks in the foundation and around screens to move in.

One foundation spray with liquid chlordane will control these insects before they can get in. Apply the chlordane to the outside foundation and treat a narrow band of soil. Concentrate on the steps and under porches. Look for cracks or small openings.

One application will last 3 months or longer. If crickets are common in your area make another application in early fall.

Foundation sprays with chlordane is not recommended if systems or dug wells are near the foundation.

Pros, Cons Clash on Area Airport Site

A clash between Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinois and Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri highlighted the first two days of hearings in St. Louis on an Illinois site for a second major St. Louis area airport.

Ogilvie charged Tuesday that Missouri leaders who oppose the site with "ignoring and distorting the facts and using every means to delay the decision" on the new airport at Columbia-Waterloo in Illinois.

Hearnes charged proponents of the site with attempting to "rush the decision" and asked that a decision on the issue be withheld by the Federal Aviation Administration until a referendum on the airport controversy can be held in Missouri in November.

Ogilvie cited politics as the main delay in approval of the site.

"What is at issue is the sincerity of some of the political leadership in Missouri in protecting the true interests of their constituents," he said.

"When I first undertook this project I asked two questions. First, will a new airport in fact be needed to serve the future aviation needs of St. Louis? And second, where was the best site in the region?"

Experts Had Answers

"After careful and cautious analysis, the experts came back with the answers. An airport was needed, and the best location was the site we have proposed in Illinois. Despite the continuous and ill-directed efforts of the opponents of the project to discredit these findings, the evidence is overwhelming that the answers first given to me are the right answers," Ogilvie continued.

"What has been the response of most of the elected Missouri officials to these compelling facts? What has been the response of these officials to the constructive steps we have taken in the interests of all the people of this region? Their response has been to ignore and distort the facts, to use every means to delay the decision, and to alarm and confuse the people of the St. Louis metropolitan area," the Governor charged.

"What is most unfortunate is that certain politicians in Missouri have misled their constituents into thinking that they can stay at Lambert Field forever. They have not had the courage to take the forward-looking, visionary approach expected of political leadership.

They have yielded to political expediency.

"Their concern has not been in keeping St. Louis one of the great aviation hubs of the country or for the commercial welfare of the people of this area. Rather, they have simply waited the time they thought the people wanted to hear — whether the facts justified it or not.

"This is not leadership. This is capitulation to temporary expediency. This is the same myopic view that led a century ago to St. Louis losing its dominant position as the national railroad center," he stated.

"The penalties for failing to provide adequate aviation facilities in the St. Louis metropolitan area will not be paid by the political leaders now opposing the airport. They will be gone when that unfortunate day arrives. The penalties will be paid by the good people of the St. Louis metropolitan area and their children and grandchildren," he predicted.

"It is time for some vision and some foresight. It is time to take into account the future welfare of all the citizens of the St. Louis metropolitan area and their children and grandchildren. It is time for the politicians to stop playing ostrich, get their heads out of the sand, and tell their constituents the facts.

Time for Decision

"It is time for an immediate decision by the FAA to approve the airport in Illinois," Ogilvie concluded.

Gov. Ogilvie also read a statement by U. S. Charles H. Percy (R-Chicago) which asked for immediate action on the site.

"It is time to end this obstructionism," Percy said of the controversy, noting that the plan is in danger of being talked to death.

Hearnes said that Illinois proponents have provided no proof that a new airport is needed and said that a vast majority of airport users would be in Missouri site for a new facility if one is necessary.

Another dispute developed between Henry J. Elmdorf, chairman of Missouri's airport authority, and Robert B. Lambert, chairman of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, proponents of the Illinois site.

Lambert denied charges that the Illinois site supporters are using "trickery" to force prompt action of approval of the site.

"We have not, as some of our opponents have done, distorted the facts and the processes of the government in order to confuse the public and delay action on the new airport. I am proud of what we have done and the way we have done it. And I am ashamed and angered at those who have attempted to portray us as having some evil design directed against public interest," Lambert stated.

Lambert can't make it "Wishful thinking and pressuring by certain Missouri politicians cannot negate the fact that report after report has shown that, even with the maximum feasible expansion, Lambert will reach saturation in terms of airfield and runway capacity, terminal capacity, internal roadway capacity and highway access at varying times over the 1980 to 1985 period. The point is that the record establishes that Lambert Field just can't make it.

"And none of the proponents of a major expansion of Lambert consider the necessity for relocation of thousands of Missouri residents and businesses. Operation of a facility of the type proposed by McDonnell would cause totally unacceptable environmental impacts," he said.

The FAA also heard from St. Louis Mayor Alton J. S. J. Carver, a long-time supporter of the Illinois site, and St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos, a long-time opponent of the site.

Both repeated their arguments of recent months—Carver charging that to not approve the site would be tragic for the future of St. Louis, and Roos stating that rushing into a new airport without proper study would be a mistake. Roos also asked that a FAA decision be withheld until after a Missouri referendum.

Also heard was Rep. James W. Symington (D-Clayton, Mo.) who said Congress should hold hearings on the issue to determine whether the FAA has a rational airport policy before a decision on a new airport here is reached.

Symington, a member of the House Commerce and Science and Astronautics committees, said any determination of a site should wait until a FAA master plan can be completed.

Opposition to the site also was voiced by William L. Beahan Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis.

Mrs. Burke Named Coroner Candidate

Mrs. Dallas M. Burke of Alton was named by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee Monday night as a candidate for coroner in this year's Nov. 7 general election.

She succeeds her late husband, Thomas J. Burke, whose death following the March primary election left the Democratic candidacy for coroner vacant.

Mrs. Burke won out in a secret ballot vote over Dr. Edward Mulville of Alton, who also was nominated in the Monday night meeting. Mrs. Burke, who is a registered nurse and now operates the Burke Funeral Home in Alton, addressed the crowd briefly following her election.

Approximately 170 of the 193 Democratic committee members attended the meeting.

MR. AND MRS. WESLEY PETO, whose wedding took place at St. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church in East St. Louis. The bride is the former Miss Christine Pantagis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pantagis, 1309 Grand Ave., Madison.

Miss Christine Pantagis, Wesley Peto Are Married

St. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church in East St. Louis was the scene of the wedding on July 29 of Miss Christine Pantagis and Wesley Peto.

The Rev. George Langas officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony before an altar banked with arrangements of white summer flowers and greenery.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Pantagis, 1309 Grand Ave., Madison and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Peto of Addison, Ill.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of ivory organza, accented with daisy appliques. Long bishop sleeves were set in an Empire bodice fashioned with an oval neckline. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and baby breath.

The groom chose his twin brother, Warren Peto, as best man. Eugene Peto, another brother of the groom, Bill Rogers, George Pantagis, a brother of the bride, Eligio Marcheschi and William Cerny completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A dinner and reception at Augustine's Restaurant Belleville, followed the ceremony. After a honeymoon trip, the couple will live in Algonquin, Ill.

The former Miss Pantagis is a graduate of Granite City High School and Illinois State University at Normal. She is teaching English at the Cary (Ill.) Junior High School.

Mr. Peto received his master's degree from Northern Illinois University. He is employed as a teacher at a junior high school in McHenry, Ill.

Americans Warned on Drug Laws in Foreign Countries

By EDWARD NEILAN
Copley News Service

Washington — Young Americans heading overseas this summer are being warned to mind their p's and q's in order to stay out of foreign jails.

Because of the increasing number of young Americans traveling overseas during the coming summer, the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs of the U. S. Department of State has provided information on problems which may confront young U. S. travelers abroad.

If you're going abroad, stay away from illegal drugs, the bureau warns.

Of the more than 900 young Americans under detention in foreign jails on narcotics charges, many apparently were under the false impression that foreign governments are more permissive about drug use and trafficking than U. S. authorities.

Actually, governments all over the world are intensifying their activities against drug trafficking and increasing the penalties for drug violations.

Heavy Penalties

Possession of marijuana, hashish, heroin, or other illegal drugs even in small quantities is punishable by 3 to 15 years' imprisonment in some countries. Generally a stiff fine is imposed. In one country the illegal importation or sale of opium, heroin, morphine or other opium derivatives is punishable by death.

Frequently, those accused spend many months in prison awaiting trial, and pretrial detention is not always deducted from the final sentence. Prison conditions in many countries are primitive: substandard or virtually no food (unless you are able to buy it), filth, overcrowded conditions, little or no heat or light, sometimes solitary confinement.

In many countries drug peddlers are also police or customs informers. After making the sale, they may either try to blackmail the buyer for several thousand dollars or inform on the buyer to the police.

One case history sums up all the dangers facing Americans abroad who violate local drug laws.

A young man from New York who "really digs fishing" went on vacation to a Central American country.

Bought Marijuana

A drug peddler told him into buying some marijuana to bring back to the United States for his friends. Shortly thereafter, he was arrested but before being taken to jail he was told that if he could pay $5,000, he would be released.

Unable to produce the money, he was imprisoned and shunted from one jail to another in which there were no beds, no blankets, and inedible food.

By the time his case was brought to court, he had spent 20 months in prison. Convicted, he was sentenced to five years in prison or a $3,000 fine. He paid the fine and another $3,000 to two lawyers who represented him. He had to borrow from his parents, friends and relatives to raise the money.

American travelers to foreign countries are not protected by U. S. laws, but subject to the laws of the country being visited.

The authority of American consular officials to intercede on an American's behalf is very limited.

More Quickly

U. S. consular officials move as quickly as possible after learning of the arrest of an American citizen to protect his rights, but all they can do is to insure that the American receives the same treatment as do nationals of the country in which he is arrested.

The consular official visits the detainee, informs him of his rights, and can provide him with a list of local attorneys from which to select his defense counsel. He will also contact the detainee's family or friends if that is requested.

Anyone contemplating bringing illegal drugs of any kind into the United States from abroad should be aware of the serious consequences involved. The U. S. Bureau of Customs is cracking down hard on all who try to smuggle drugs into the United States, and legislation has been introduced to increase the bureau's agents at each port of entry by 25 per cent.

Most of those who attempt drug smuggling are young people.

Besides drugs, another area of concern is charter flights. Charter flights offer young travelers a way to cut down on expenses.

The State Department warns: "You have to be careful in choosing a charter flight or you could end up stranded abroad, or may lose your deposit and have your flight cancelled."

"Make sure of three things: that the charterer is a responsible outfit, that you are eligible to participate and that you have purchased a round-trip ticket."

Former GC Residents Enter Florida Politics

Three members of a former Granite City family who moved to Florida in 1935 are candidates for Pinellas County offices, marking the first time there that each member of a family has entered the political ring.

They are Paul Teller, his wife Elizabeth and daughter Phyllis of St. Petersburg. The Tellors formerly operated a retail appliance business on State Street here. He is the brother of George Teller, assistant Granite City police chief.

The Tellors operate a motel and a realty firm. They qualified to run for different county-wide positions in the coming election on the Democratic ticket.

Teller, 48, is seeking a county commission seat, and Mrs. Teller, 46, is running for an at-large seat on the county school board. Informants here were unable to determine the role of the daughter.

In filing their papers at the circuit clerk's office, the Tellors issued the following statement:

"The Teller family feels the deep-seated American tradition of the family unit constitutes a vital role in American life. This family philosophy is a contributing factor of the Teller family offering themselves for public service."

"It is their hope, desire and intent that their action will bring the families and people of Pinellas County closer to their government and, in turn, the government closer to the families and the people."

Teller has been active with the St. Petersburg Board of Realtors and is a member of the board of directors of the St. Petersburg Chapter of the Mortgage Broker Association.

Mrs. Teller manages the realty office and Miss Teller is her assistant.

Miss Teller was graduated from the University of Tampa with a bachelor of science degree. She entered the nuclear medicine program at Tampa General Hospital after graduation and was employed in that field in Hollywood, Fla., before returning home.

St. Margaret-Mary 'Alpine Nite' Sunday

The annual "Alpine Nite" festivity of St. Margaret-Mary Catholic Church, 1000 St. Clair Ave., will begin at 6 p.m. Sunday on the church parking lot.

Music, dancing, food and activities designed to please all age levels will be included in the celebration. Food will include bratwurst, sausages and pizza.

Dancing to the music of the "Venezian Serenaders" will begin at 7 p.m.

INTRUDERS IN HOME Tina Pearson, 1029 near Market St., Venice, reported at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday that she awakened to find two men in her home. She said one man picked up a stick and struck her, causing a cut to her left wrist. The men then fled, one leaving through the front door and the other by the rear door. Entry was gained by cutting a hole in a screen door, she said.

So they're doing it again this year.

Right now, in fact.

And it's your best chance of the year to save on a new Chevrolet.

Because your dealer has to move out all his '72s to make room for the '73s. (He gets a chance to clean house. You get a chance to clean up.)

You'll find a good selection to choose from. In all shapes and sizes. And all priced to go.

So see your friendly neighborhood Chevy dealer now while his Garage Sale is going on.

GOLDEN WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. Riley G. Harper, 1021 Logan St., Madison, who observed their 50th wedding anniversary at a reception at the Lee Wright Recreation Center in Venice. The wedding was held July 23, 1922 at the Mount Nebo Baptist Church in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Harper Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Riley G. Harper, 1021 Logan St., Madison, greeted more than 100 guests at a reception given in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The afternoon affair was held at the Lee Wright Recreation Center in Venice.

Mr. Harper and his wife, the former Miss Gustava Scott, were married at the Mount Nebo Baptist Church in Madison on July 23, 1922.

Earlier on the day of the reception, the couple repeated their marriage vows and groomed the morning worship services, with the Rev. J. Samuel Gardner, pastor, officiating.

Both husband and wife have been active in the affairs of the church during the five decades of their marriage.

Mr. Harper has served as a deacon, a church trustee and as a Sunday school teacher. His wife has taught Sunday school classes and served as pianist for more than 48 years.

A former employee of American Steel Foundries, Mr. Harper retired about eight years ago after working at the local plant 15 years.

Yellow roses encircled a white covered table on which a three-tiered anniversary cake, topped with the numerals "50" in gold, was the focal point. Wedding bells formed the centerpiece.

Gold and white streamers decorated the reception hall. Many gifts were presented to the couple and were displayed on a special table also bedecked in a white and gold color scheme.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper are the parents of one son, William Roland Harper of Oakland, Calif. They have four grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Four generations of the family were present for the celebration.

Ivory Coast Missionary to Speak Sunday

The Rev. Gordon C. Timyan, who has lived in the Baoule-Agni tribal area on the Ivory Coast of West Africa since 1945, will speak at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Gospel Mission, 2014 E. 20th St., according to Mrs. Bethel J. Davis, superintendent. The missionary spoke at the same church 30 years ago, Mrs. Davis reported.

The public is invited to hear the program, the church officer said, noting that the building is air-conditioned and adequate parking is available at the church.

With his wife and children, the Rev. Timyan has arrived in the U. S. for a year's leave after four years service in the humid rain forest region of West Africa.

He reports that the Baoule-Agni number close to one million and are believed to be the most responsive of the West African tribes, with over 8,000 baptized members in 400 villages.

Autonomous Church
Today, an autonomous self-supporting church of Baoule-Agni Christians are financing their own ministry and building churches without any foreign aid.

The Rev. Timyan explained that under the direction of their first president, the Rev. Joseph Koffi and an all-African executive committee, the Evangelical Protestant Church of the Christian and Missionary Alliance now manage their own business through regional committees and an annual tribe-wide conference.

During his 26 years of foreign service, the Rev. Timyan has had varied field experience in the Baoule-Agni region of the French speaking public. He has served as field chairman, primary school director and translator.

In the past two years he has served as the Rev. Timyan's assistant, Felix Houphouët-Boigny, of the Baoule tribe, who lives 25 miles from the Timians' former station, is a close friend of the mission and recently granted five acres of land in his own city of Yamoussoukro for construction of an Internal Inter-Mission Pastoral School.

In his present function as field literature secretary, the Rev. Timyan supervises the production and distribution of Christian literature in both the Baoule and French languages and also bi-lingual material.

He has been active in inter-mission activities having served as president of the Ivory Coast

Evangelical Federation Literature Committee during the past three years.

The Rev. Timyan has published several tracts and booklets in French for distribution in Franco-Africa and for four years has served on the Bible Society's West African Consultative Committee in Abidjan, Ivory Coast.

WCTU GROUP TO MEET
The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Wesley Hall at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, Mrs. Mildred Cundiff will serve as hostess.

Rallies for Soldiers
He conducts monthly rallies for the soldiers in camp, as well as the downtown youth center, utilizing documentary and various films to attract the military personnel. Also in Bouake, he has held weekly teacher-training classes for national Sunday school teachers at the Bouake Evangelical Church.

In December 1958, the Republic of Ivory Coast, proclaimed its new nation, took a leading part in the organization of a commonwealth of French overseas territories known as the Franco-African community.

Less than two years later, the new republic left the community's jurisdiction and proclaimed its independence, the Rev. Timyan explained.

To Construct Mission
The popular first president, Felix Houphouët-Boigny, of the Baoule tribe, who lives 25 miles from the Timians' former station, is a close friend of the mission and recently granted five acres of land in his own city of Yamoussoukro for construction of an Internal Inter-Mission Pastoral School.

In his present function as field literature secretary, the Rev. Timyan supervises the production and distribution of Christian literature in both the Baoule and French languages and also bi-lingual material.

He has been active in inter-mission activities having served as president of the Ivory Coast

Audit of State Environment Agency 'Accurate but Old'

Claims about the financial condition of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency made last week by Sen. Robert Cherry, D-Chicago, are misleading, state EPA Director William L. Blaser said.

"It cannot be emphasized too strongly that the fiscal conditions claimed, where accurate, occurred more than a year ago," Blaser said.

"It is unfair to the people of Illinois to imply that such conditions are prevalent. It is unfair to withhold the information that total corrective action has been completed."

Conditions assailed were listed in an official audit of the Illinois EPA's 1971 fiscal year ending June 30, 1971.

"We do not take issue with the findings reported by the auditing firm, which the Illinois auditor general routinely retained among others to conduct the annual audits of Illinois government departments," Blaser said.

Their report confirms the sad conditions which I found in the EPA when I became its director on Feb. 4, 1971. At that time, the agency was already seven months into the fiscal year covered by the audit in question," he noted.

"Earlier reviews had indicated the possibility of poor management, and it is my belief that the fiscal situation, along with other problems within the agency, played a large part in my being asked by Gov. Ogilvie to assume direction of the program," Blaser said.

He related that among his earliest actions was to reorganize the agency and subsequently replace the three key managers in fiscal operations.

"Not only were financial activities being poorly handled but there was a low level of achievement of the Agency's purpose—pollution control."

"The audit of EPA's first fiscal year was well-performed. It was complete, candid and conscientiously executed. Most of the deficiencies were known to us or suspected before the audit, and procedures were already instituted to correct them."

"Where current accusations are faulty is in their failure to report that the same auditors have completed a followup assessment of EPA's corrective efforts—a second study specifically requested by me and completed by the accounting firm on May 12."

"We went to the same auditors," the director said, "to be absolutely certain that the subsequent findings would not overlook and previous criticisms, and to insure the credibility of the followup report."

Sleeper, Nalefski & Catlin said in their second study that "outstanding efforts by Illinois EPA have brought its fiscal operations to a high level of efficiency."

Artists in Blues, Rock at River Festival Next Week

Top artists from the world of blues music, hard rock and pop will make up the talent at the Mississippi River Festival weekend concerts next Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

The line-up includes blues singer and guitarist B. B. King with vocalist Merry Clayton on Tuesday, Aug. 8, the top-notch British group Emerson, Lake & Palmer with the American group Jo Jo Gunne on Wednesday, Aug. 9, and the ever-popular Fifth Dimension with songwriter and singer Bill Withers on Friday, Aug. 11.

All weeknight concerts begin at 8:30 p.m. on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Known as the "King of the Blues," B. B. King has been on the blues scene for a quarter of a century. He has come a long way from his days as a share cropper in Mississippi to his current scene of playing such top clubs as Caesars Palace in Las Vegas.

This fall he will begin a worldwide concert tour which will include performances in the Far East, Japan, Middle East and Europe. Among his most acclaimed recordings is "The Thrill is Gone" which received the Grammy Award, the "Oscar" of the recording industry.

Worked with Darin

Appearing with B. B. King Tuesday will be young vocalist Merry Clayton. Though only in her early twenties, she has the wealth of professional experience to her credit; while still in high school she was discovered by Bobby Darin and subsequently cut a disc with him and went on to do studio work with such people as the Supremes, Elvis, Pearl Bailey and Phil Ochs.

Out of high school, she joined Ray Charles, traveling and recording as lead vocalist for the Raylets. After a two-year stint with them, she began recording with top artists once again and reason went on to cut her own albums which now include "Gimme Shelter" and "Merry Clayton."

50,000 Drivers Fail

Last year alone, over 50,000 Illinois licensed drivers failed the state written examination. This year the number of drivers that will fail could jump to a hundred thousand or more. Experts say — "One reason is, that rules and regulations change, and even though good safe drivers just don't keep up with the new laws." If your license expires this year, you may be among the hundreds of thousands that will be re-examined in 1972. So if you're nervous about taking the state written exam, here's good news. You can now purchase your own "self-scoring" test papers, complete with questions, answers and road signs you should know for that important examination day. This method has helped thousands pass the state exam. Infracture price just $6 plus 75 cents handling. (Check or money order only.) Mail to AA-AA School of Safe Driving, 834 N. Milwaukee Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60646, Dept. 3000. Copyright 1972 — AA-AA School of Safe Driving. All rights reserved.

Highlighting the concert will be a performance by concertmaster John Korman of Saint Louis' Concerto No. 3 in B minor for Violin and Orchestra.

From the classical repertoire, Fiedler has selected Wagner's "Entrance of the Guests from Wartburg" from "Tannhauser," Weber's Overture to Euryanthe, the "Ballet Suite from 'Carmen,'" and the Final Dance (Malambo) from "Estancia" by the contemporary South American composer Ginastera.

Selections from "Show Boat" by Jerome Kern will represent Broadway and from the popular field will come "Cecelia" by Simon & Garfunkel and "For All We Know" by Karlin-Wilson-James.

Dr. Birkhimer, president of Lewis & Clark, in his welcome to the college representatives and guests voiced the desire of the college to help veterans. He cited a need for veterans to receive their checks more promptly and asked that a solution to this problem be pursued.

The Cranston Amendment provides up to $300 for each veteran enrolled at the college, plus another possible $150 bonus if the veteran is enrolled at the college, plus another possible $150 bonus if the veteran is enrolled in special courses; $5.8 million has been appropriated by the government to be dispersed to colleges throughout the nation.

Torricelli said about 50 colleges will be selected by the U. S. Office of Education to participate in this program of educational aid for the veteran enrollees.

To be eligible for the grant, a college must account for a 10% increase in veteran enrollment, provide veterans' counseling, operate a Veterans' Outreach program with work study money and offer prep and remedial programs geared especially to the veteran.

School Time Near Again; Registration Scheduled

Registration of senior and junior high school students now is under way and registration is planned from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 24 for elementary school students, it was announced today.

New students who will enter Granite City schools this fall are required to register at the school they will attend.

Students who attended Granite City schools last year have been preregistered and are not required to attend registration sessions, school officials said.

Junior and senior high school students new to the district may register from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, now through the end of the summer vacation. Junior high students will be advised during registration of a time and place for testing which will determine class placement.

Those who have questions about where to register their children may call the school board office, 576-6600.

Must Be Immunized
Illinois law provides that no child may enter school for the first time without the following immunizations: whooping cough, diphtheria, measles, smallpox, polio and tetanus (or the illness). The only exceptions are for religious or medical reasons.

Physical examinations are required also of all students entering any school for the first time. Forms for physical examinations may be obtained at the Board of Education Office, 200 and Adams Streets, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., the announcement said.

Parents of new students are urged to meet the immunization and physical examination prior to registration. Registration may not be completed until either all medical requirements have been met or written evidence of doctors' appointment within two weeks of school opening is presented by parent, school officials said.

B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, urged that all students entering the Granite City district for the first time be registered before the first day of school.

Urges Early Registration
"It is a mutual interest of the parent, the child and the school that every child be placed as early as possible in a program which will meet his or her particular educational needs," Davis said. He urged anyone knowing of new families in their neighborhood to encourage them to register their children.

Only students new to the district or who have not previously been in school need to register. Kindergarten children registered last spring need not register again.

Students who will attend the new Russell D. Johnson Elementary School are not required to register again if they previously attended another elementary school in Granite City or registered for kindergarten at another elementary school in the district.

Records for all such students already have been transferred to the new school according to Supt. Davis. The records for all other students assigned to a different elementary school by redistricting also have been transferred and registration again is not necessary.

McGovern's Rise from Nowhere Began in 1968

By JAMES CARY
Copley News Service

Washington — It didn't begin in the snows of New Hampshire as some popular versions say. For George Stanley McGovern, the launching pad of his amazing and successful campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination was the slim Democratic convention in Chicago.

Eighteen days before that violent, divisive and explosive conclave began, the senator from South Dakota heeded the pleas of supporters of the slain Robert F. Kennedy and declared himself a candidate.

He emerged with only 14.5 votes but he did plant some seeds that were to grow into towering trees of strength four years later.

One was his participation in a three-way debate with the eventual nominee, Hubert Humphrey, and 1968 Cincinnati candidate Eugene McCarthy. The California delegation was impressed and gave him 51 of the state's 174 votes. He had established a foothold in the nation's most populous state.

Charles Manatt, California state Democratic chairman, recalls: "I think that McGovern's presentation to the delegation that day really was what established him on the road to victory in 1972."

Not an Easy Road
It was not an easy road to travel.

The defeated McGovern left Chicago still harboring his dreams of winning the White House, and three years later and an unprecedented 22 months before the 1972 general election, he formally announced his candidacy again.

The date was Jan. 18, 1971, the time a frosty winter afternoon, in the studios of KELO-TV in Sioux Falls, S.D., over a statewide radio and television hookup.

No one paid any attention — well, almost no one.

But, McGovern had not been idle since 1968. Throughout the following year he had crisscrossed the nation, speaking wherever he could, denouncing the war, high taxes and many other volatile issues troubling the voters.

Results Poor
The results were poor. Democrats were focusing on Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts as the man who could lead the party back into the White House in 1972.

But this was pre-Chappaquiddick—the name of an island off Massachusetts where Edward Kennedy's political career suffered a devastating jolt. He drove a car off a bridge and a girl companion drowned.

After that and with Kennedy retreating to the sidelines, Sen. Edmund Muskie became the indicated choice at the 1972 convention. But once again McGovern planted one of those seeds that were to bear bountiful fruit.

In mid-1970 he hired an unknown Denver attorney, Gary Hart, now 34, to run his campaign. Hart, a brilliant organizer, decided quickly that McGovern should enter New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation presidential primary in 1972.

In July 1970, McGovern, Hart and other aides sat down at the senator's Cedar Point farm in Maryland to plot strategy. They emerged with a battle plan that carried them through the California primary two years later.

A key element of that plan was that McGovern should announce his candidacy very early in order to establish identification around the nation. Hart remembers that "our strategy all along was to co-opt the left."

The battle plan also called for hard campaigning in the key 1972 primaries—New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Oregon, California and New York.

Campaign McGovern did, beginning long before the primaries, attempting to overcome national polls showing that very few American voters knew who he was.

Money was another big problem, but a letter campaign brought in $250,000 and the frail McGovern campaign machine began to function.

Throughout 1972, McGovern traveled and spoke—100,000 miles and 1,500 speeches. The money situation improved, too. He spent $1 million.

Then came "D" Day—the time the bloodletting was over after the California and New York primaries, only Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Gov. George Wallace remained as serious contenders and McGovern was within range of wrapping up an early ballot victory in Miami Beach. He had won 10 of the 23 primaries and scored heavy in nonprimaries states.

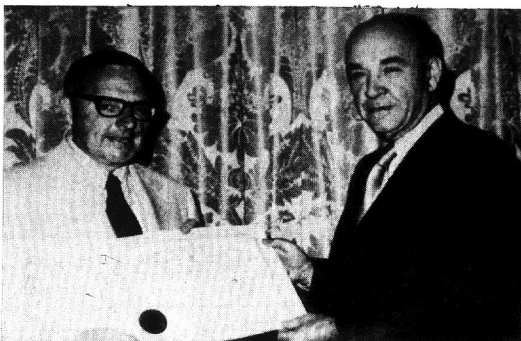

How did he do it?
Rick Stearns, 27, another brilliant aide, says, "The key is the candidate."

Kirby Jones, McGovern's press aide, agrees.

"This campaign has tapped a feeling in this country that I think is right on," he says. "The country has moved to the McGovern hold."

The turning point of the campaign was obviously McGovern's primary victory in Wisconsin and the next attention this brought in the press.

Others say the change came even earlier, in Iowa. Regardless of when it came, McGovern, the unknown, became a political comet that soared into the political heavens and won the highest honor his party can bestow—its presidential nomination on July 12, 1972.

REAPPOINTED. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie is shown with Homer Huber, right, whom he has reappointed to the Tri-City Regional Port District Board. Huber, of 3245 Willow Ave., Granite City, is president of Feder & Huber Furniture Co. He will remain on the board until June 1975.

JUVENILE ARRESTED

A 16-year-old Pontoon Beach boy was arrested by Pontoon Beach police this week allegedly for stealing the minibike of Earl Worthing, 3801 Lake Drive, Lot 312. The youth reportedly admitted the theft, reassembled the bike and returned it to Worthing. He was not charged.

New Hampshire primary, tallied, McGovern had finished a surprisingly strong second when the vote was finally cast. 37.1% of the ballot behind Muskie's surprisingly weak 64%.

The rest is history. By the time the bloodletting was over after the California and New York primaries, only Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Gov. George Wallace remained as serious contenders and McGovern was within range of wrapping up an early ballot victory in Miami Beach. He had won 10 of the 23 primaries and scored heavy in nonprimaries states.

Kirby Jones, McGovern's press aide, agrees.

Handicapped to Be Special Guests at Fair

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield—Thousands of "invisible" Illinoisans, seen but often ignored, will be special guests during two days at the State Fair this year.

So far, 5,000 mentally or physically handicapped persons are scheduled to visit the fair on Aug. 14 and 15, when they and the chaperones accompanying them, will be admitted to the grounds.

So far, most of those planning to attend are from state hospitals, sheltered workshops and other state-connected facilities. However, anyone with a mentally or physically handicapped family member living at home can also obtain free entry for themselves and the handicapped persons merely by writing the State Fair Agency, at Springfield, directing the request to the attention of the Special Guests division.

Advance requests are being urged, to enable those planning the event to be sure adequate personnel and facilities are available.

The special days for the handicapped were an outgrowth of requests made to Mrs. Rich and B. Ogilvie, wife of the governor, who serves as volunteer services chairman for the Illinois Association for the Mentally Retarded.

Recreation a Need
Recently they circulated questionnaires to some 10,000 parents of the handicapped and found one of the greatest unmet needs was for recreation particularly in the summer months.

Originally scheduled for one day, the event was expanded to two days because of the unexpectedly heavy response.

Many of the handicapped will be on the grounds for only half a year, since there are no picnic areas where they could have lunch and since, even more than other fair-goers, they may tend to become tired.

Two special tented rest areas will be set up, equipped with water coolers, near areas where most of the activity is expected. Extra wheelchairs and golf carts are being obtained from Springfield area organizations and individuals, and 400 volunteer workers will be stationed throughout the grounds to help the staff members and parents with their charges.

The volunteers are being given special training and will be identified by bright orange sashes.

A local radio station plans to provide earphones so blind children can "see" the circus, and other special earphones are being sought to permit the handicapped with partial hearing to better enjoy what is going on.

Fair manager Bob Park said several restrooms are being remodeled to accommodate wheelchairs and users on crutches. These changes will remain, for other handicapped fairgoers in the future, he said.

Individuals requesting free guest tickets for the two days do not need any medical certification with their requests, and with the tickets they will be sent a map of the grounds, lists of events on the two days and other information to help make the handicapped visitors' trip to the fair both pleasant and safe.

The handicapped will use Gate 12, just west of the Main Gate.

Those attending those days will also receive questionnaires asking how the event could be expanded and improved in the future, but even in the first year, for at least 5,000 people who live on the fringes most of the time, the fair's slogan "Come Smile With Us" has already been given a new, personal meaning.

Dr. John's Prescription Calls for 'Gumbo' Soul

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

You've got to be from the South to play Dixie blue and funky rock as well as Dr. John does.

Dr. John calls the music on his new album, "Gumbo" on Alito records, "basically New Orleans blues and stomp music with a little Dixieland jazz and some Spanish Rhumba blues."

I would add "flavored with a little R & B soul."

In a sense, "Gumbo" is the first album by Mac Rebennack, piano player and singer extraordinaire from New Orleans. The album is a subtle and temporary departure from the Dr. John music image to a redefinition of the many musical rock influences that make up the "New Orleans" school of music.

Dr. John put his heart and soul into this type of music which shaped his beginnings. Such cuts as "Iko Iko," "Big Chief," "Those Lonely Lonely Nights," "Mess Around," and "Don't You Just Know It" are excellent examples of Dr. John's talents.

The album offers a living musical documentary of a city with a good timely and energetic amalgam of blues, jazz, dixieland, and rock 'n' roll played by the same men who helped to create it.

This is by far Dr. John's most commercial album to date, but the LP jumps and boogies all over and is well worth hearing.

David Bowie's "Ziggy Stardust" on RCA records is more rock 'n' roll from England than what it takes to make it big in the United States.

Bowie's got his music together all the way on this one. His voice has a nice quality (kind of reminds one of Nilsson), and his backup group knows and plays their instruments well.

Lyrical album is too far out at times, but the music is good enough that you don't need to understand all the words.

However, a word sheet is included in case you care to follow along. The album should do quite well with adolescent and bubble gum sets.

Tape Talk: "The View From Rowland's Head" on Ampex tapes, by The Family Dog will hit the spot for many soft rock fans.

As a producer in England, Steve Rowland has an impressive track record.

So, it isn't really a surprise to anyone when his venture as a performer, with his own group, met with immediate success as well.

Steve is not only lead singer with Family Dog, but he also produced the tape.

Some of the outstanding cuts include "Wonder," "We Have

All Been Saved," "Inner City Blues" and "Advice to Smokey Robinson."

On the Classical Side: The violin as a solo instrument has never captured the American fancy in the manner of other instruments or the human voice.

Americans seem to like their violins en masse, backing up a Sinatra vocal or giving the lush sound to a Tchaikovsky symphony.

Which perhaps is why Fritz Kreisler, a prodigious musical talent both as a composer and violin soloist, never quite reached the fame in America that he deserved.

But Kreisler, who died in 1962 at the age of 87, did leave an impressive musical legacy and a sampling now is presented for modern listeners by Columbia in an LP called "Zukerman Plays Kreisler" (M31378).

The performer is a 24-year-old Israeli, Pinchas Zukerman, a child prodigy on the violin, as was Kreisler.

This is a good album for lovers of nostalgia.

The sounds in this music are like old wine, evoking the mood of a quieter and less frenzied America.

After all, Kreisler goes way back to the turn of the century when Columbia's "Celebrity Discs" were in vogue.

Those were the days of the hand-cranked Victrola—its merriment called it the "scratching box"—in the living room. Kreisler was among the early performers.

His Viennese bombons, "Liebesfreud" and "Liebesleid"—both of which are included on the Zukerman record—were popular half a century ago.

It is said that a man of Kreisler's talent did not have the technical recording equipment that artists now have.

But Zukerman gives us the next thing to the original with a splendid performance of both Kreisler's original compositions and his versions of the works

GC Students Attend Student Council Meet

One hundred eight members of student councils in 85 Illinois high schools were on the McKendree College campus recently to learn how to become better leaders of their student bodies.

Among them were Kathy Grisham, 82 Shirlwin Drive, Cape Girardeau, 2716 Stratford Lane. Serving on the staff was Tom Miotky, 3135 Colgate Place, of Collinsville High School, and a junior counselor was Sandy Kirksey, 3201 Kilarney Drive, of Granite City High School.

The students attended a workshop conducted by the Illinois Association of Student Councils. Ronald R. Ganschmied, director, and a staff of 15 including six junior counselors led the workshop, the first of three scheduled on the campus of the 14-year-old college this summer.

A second session for another group of student leaders will be held Aug. 7-11, and a similar workshop for the National Association of High School Student Councils will be held Aug. 14-18.

Two sessions were held on campus last summer. Ganschmied said he was very happy with the setting and facilities. The students have use of the dorms, the air-conditioned cafeteria and air-conditioned student center, as well as all the meeting rooms they need.

While the campus of the small four-year liberal arts college includes buildings dating back to 1850 that are still in use, it has seven buildings erected in the last 10 years that are modern in every respect.

The students are divided into council groups that enact prob-

CURIOSITY: Archeology student Don Klein of Chicago displays a 5,000-year-old spear point he found in a Cottage Hills field being excavated by a team from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Sidney Denny, leader of the team, said the point shows the curiosity of Indians living there 500 years ago. One of them had apparently discovered the point and brought it home where it was eventually discarded, to be discovered in turn by archeologists.

Indian Palisade Found In Archeology Diggings

A defensive palisade, a fortification specifically erected to keep off marauders, has been discovered in a cornfield on the edge of Cottage Hills. The leader of the team which made the discovery said the wooden structure "indicates the inhabitants were having problems with somebody around here."

The discoverer is anthropology Prof. Sidney Denny. He was speaking, not of signs of a fifth column in the small community, but of archeological evidence his team from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville had uncovered in the rock-hard clay.

The palisade protected perhaps 50 to 100 Indians from some unknown enemy in the period 1350-1500 A. D.

Although the site is miles from the Cahokia Mounds, Denny's find will be helpful to his colleagues digging there. "No one knows exactly why the settlement at Cahokia declined so rapidly after 1350 A.D.," Denny said.

He said that in the heyday of the settlement as many as 40,000 Indians may have lived there. Denny said the figure rapidly shrank for some reason, perhaps a minor climatic shift wreaking havoc with the marginal agriculture, or perhaps a war or wars. Evidence of a palisade on the bluffs adds weight to the latter theory.

Ample Evidence

But there is also ample evidence already uncovered on the land owned by the Olin Corp. to add weight to the former. "We've found only one or two kernels of corn on the site," Denny said, "which indicates the Indians did not derive their living from the soil. Instead, we've found numerous nuts, bones, and other evidence of a more primitive, hunting-and-gathering culture."

Denny conducts the excavation with the help of a class, Field Techniques in Archeology, and a half-dozen volunteers who can't get academic credit but who dig nevertheless.

The site is being excavated for the second summer, and so far about 15 buildings have been uncovered. To find more will take more time. The digging is a slow, painstaking process of wetting the brick-like soil and scraping it cautiously, eyes straining for artifacts or even subtle discoloration of the soil.

Discoloration means the decomposition of organic material, like the wood in the palisade or refuse in one of the numerous garbage pits which spot the site.

"Or," Denny added with a half-smile, "the burrow of a ground hog." Those animals, he explained, line their "digs" with organic material and so mislead and confuse the modern researcher.

Unwary Archeologist

The unwary archeologist can also be misled by artifacts, Denny explained. One of his students, Don Klein of Chicago, found a spear point which Denny concluded was at least 5,000 years old. "As a piece of evidence," Denny said, "it is far less important than the general run-of-the-mill trash" on the site.

The ancient point, Denny said, shows only that "an Indian picked it up as a curiosity and brought it home with him."

Since archeologists already know the Indians were "as curious as people today are," Denny said, a turtle shell discovered in a garbage pit is more significant because it is evidence of something which was not already known so well—the diet of the natives.

In the repetitive scraping of the ground, with the quiet sifting of dirt in search of tiny bone fragments or an occasional piece of broken pottery, the discovery of the palisade or of an unbroken stone ax is high drama. Archeologists are more subject to sunstroke than to heart attacks.

Tamburiza Students To Perform Tonight

Students who recently completed a workshop in playing the tamburiza will give a performance at 7:30 p.m. today in Peck Building Room 1402 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The tamburiza is a Slavic stringed instrument similar to a mandolin. The workshop sessions, held on six Saturdays at SIUE, were sponsored by the University's ethnic and special studies program and the Slavic and East European Friends of SIUE.

Parents of students and other interested persons are invited to listen to string ensembles composed of the 30 students who attended the workshop, according to Stanley Kimball, SIUE history professor and workshop coordinator.

Workshop instructors George Fedak and Eleonora Eaves, both of St. Louis, will be at the performance to answer questions.

20 NAMEOKI VILLAGE, GRANITE CITY, ILL.

500-YEAR-OLD DEFENSE: Primitive Indians built a wooden palisade in what is now a cornfield on the southwest edge of Cottage Hills at least 500 years ago. When the hard soil is watered the decayed wood is revealed as a dark stain in the soil (emphasized in this picture). The palisade surrounded a village being excavated by archeology students from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Geronimo Black's War Dance Just Won't Quit

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

Geronimo Black put on a war dance the other night that won't be forgotten.

But don't get me wrong, the band is not a bunch of wild-whopping Indians. It's got everything together just beautifully. In fact, the only true Indian in the band is Jimmy Carl Black, whom you might remember from The Mothers of Invention.

The Los Angeles-based band, which has been together for three years is on tour promoting their album on the Uni label called simply "Geronimo Black."

It's an excellent example of Geronimo's versatility, for it covers jazz, blue and rock all with equal balance and mastery of their instruments.

While chatting with Jim, one soon becomes aware of the fact that you never call Geronimo Black a group, it's a band.

"We Are a Band"

"We are definitely not a group, we are a band," he said. "With a group you have a couple of years and that's if you're lucky. One of the reasons is because a group will get a couple of his and become stars. Then they won't talk to anybody so they break up and start the whole thing over again. To me a band is different, they can stay together as long as they want."

Jim, who is Irish Cherokee and Cheyenne Indian with a little bit of Irish thrown in, is a free talker and a serious, ambitious musician. (The band puts in six to eight hours of practice every day.) His career started out in the hillbilly vein just "because I couldn't get any other gigs," and gradually worked up into today's contemporary sound.

Backing up big Jim, who plays drums and sings, are Andy Cahan, piano and drums; Denny Walley, guitar and vocals; Tom Leavy, bass and flute; and sax and Tjay Contrell, sax and clarinet. All these fellows have a wide background in blues, jazz and classical music, giving them a deep well to draw from.

The band as a whole is very explosive as their album demonstrates. They can knock you dead with Jim's boogie versions of "L. A. County Jail" and "Low Riding Man," full into serious mood with the simple easy going "Siesta," or hit you with some good old foot stomping hillbilly music.

Musical Knowledge
There's no limit to the band's potential for several reasons. First on their debut album "Geronimo Black," they just barely scratched the surface of their combined musical knowledge. Second, they all write and write well.

"This helps a whole lot," Jim said. "Unlike many other bands with a limited source of music going and coming from one or two people, we have six fellows who can write. This gives us half a dozen directions from which to choose. Of course some are good and some are bad because you can't hit every time."

If you listen real close to the lyrics you'll find that all the band members tend to have a flair with the pen.

"A couple of the fellows are real naturals," Jim said, "but I have a hard time writing songs. However, I write mainly about the Indian people because my ties are strong toward this group. 'Low Riding Man,' on the other hand was just a fun and saxl and Tjay Contrell, sax and clarinet. All these fellows have a wide background in blues, jazz and classical music, giving them a deep well to draw from."

When asked to describe the band's music, Black would only say it's "Geronimo Black" music and he hopes it's a sound all by itself. He feels that it's time for a change because up until a few months ago music was stagnant. Although groups were playing different music, they still all had the same feeling about them.

Different Sound
To achieve a different sound, Big Jim had added and subtracted as he saw fit to get the sound he was looking for.

"Originally the band started out with two pianos, a violin, bass, drums and a guitar," he recalled. "But that only lasted for a while because we decided to add two horns for depth and variety in sound."

Now that Geronimo Black has established its M. O., a nationwide tour is eagerly awaited. However, in the meantime, Jim says, "I think that's where it's going to go," he explained. "In two years or so, when you come out with an album, you'll have to come out with a visual trip too, because video-tape is just around the corner."

"But our shows will have a different approach," than say 'Hair,' where the actors played no instruments. For one thing they'll be more musical. And I think there has to be a way to do a really far-out musical-theatrical thing with instruments hanging around your neck and so forth. That's what we're working on."

And after seeing the fine performance put on by Geronimo Black on Funky's small stage, it's not impossible to envision the band rapping out a full-length production at the Hollywood Bowl.

Fact Sheet on Draft System Available

Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) announced today that a draft fact sheet on the Selective Service System is now available from his office.

The fact sheet is a comprehensive summary of present draft regulations and executive rulings. Information concerning classifications, including the new I-H category, deferment possibilities, and methods of appeal is included in the fact sheet.

The purpose of the fact sheet is to inform as many young men as possible about the draft, explain to them the probability of their induction, and enumerate the options open to them.

Since most trouble with the draft is the result of misinformation, the fact sheet should provide valuable assistance to men confronted with the possibility of induction into military service, Price said.

WANTED

CAR BUYERS
Nobody Out Trades
MATHEWS CHEV.

Buy any new '72 Volkswagen from us and you won't have to pay a penny for service for 1 year/12,000 miles.

What the plan is all about: No manufacturer's warranty in the world covers normal maintenance work.

But our service plan does.
With the service contract we're giving away you can get your engine tuned, your wheels aligned, and your brakes, fan belt and clutch adjusted whenever you need to, without spending a cent.
Lube jobs are free.
Spark plugs are free.
Paints, condensers, wiper blades, fuses, hoses, even light bulbs are free.
We'll look for trouble, too. And you won't have to pay for the inspections, either.

Actually, for 12 months or 12,000 miles (depending on whichever comes first) you won't have to pay for any of the service you'd normally pay for, with a Volkswagen or any other car. Because, except for gas, tires and collision damage, your problems are our problems.

Now, what do we expect from you?
You have to buy a new '72 Beetle, Super Beetle, Station Wagon, Squareback, Type 3, Karmann Ghia, Camptmobile, or 411 from us.
You have to bring it back where you bought it every 3 months or 3,000 miles so we can maintain it according to Volkswagen's maintenance schedule.

And you can't modify, abuse or torture it.
That's it.
Except for one last detail.
We can't make this offer indefinitely. So don't put off coming to see us.
Wouldn't you rather kick our tires than kick yourself?

The flood victims of Rapid City, South Dakota and Pennsylvania desperately need your help. The scope of these disasters, and others, completely exhausted all available emergency funds, and much disaster relief work remains to be done. Thus, the National Disaster Relief Headquarters, American Red Cross, has sent a desperate appeal to all local Red Cross Chapters for additional emergency funds. You can help! Give your support the American way -- send your personal contribution today!
